

Punishment Chain

“As you’ve been made staff, we trust you to make appropriate decision on punishments given to players. You have the power to make or break this server. The punishment you give should be fair and justified and this document is just a guideline.” ~ James

Notice [Important]

- If someone receives 5 warnings they will automatically receive a 7 Day ban. Technically they should never reach this.
- All information should be logged in the admin log on the admin panel. This is so we know interaction with players and so it can be referenced with unban request or user complaints.
- Players should be verbally warned before any punishments (except anyform of mute or ban). Such as if you catch them griefing a few blocks, warn them it's bannable before asking them to fix it.
- If bans are permanent a permanent warning should also be issued in case that user becomes unbanned.
- Do not be afraid to punish donators. They are still players and must follow the rules. If they break any of the rules they will still be treated the same as a normal player.

Guide to logging on the log panel

The ban panel can be found here (<https://capecraft.net/admin>) and your credentials will have been supplied by James. Logging a user interaction is relatively easy if you follow the steps.

1. First login to the admin panel
  - a. James will have supplied credentials to you
2. Click “Log users”
3. Click “post new”

You’ll be supplied with a page for adding a user log. Please note user logs cannot be deleted unless you request so from James so make sure information inputted is correct.

1. Insert the players username
2. Choose the type of punishment supplied
  - a. If a temporary punishment such as a “Temp Warning”, “Temp Mute” or “Temp Ban” you’ll need to enter the length of the punishment

The screenshot shows a web form for adding a user log. It has two main sections: 'Type:' and 'Length:'. The 'Type:' section is a dropdown menu with 'Temp Warning' selected. The 'Length:' section consists of a text input field containing the number '3' and a dropdown menu with 'Day/s' selected.

3. Supply the reason of the punishment
4. Upload proof (Use a screenshot software such as Gyazo)
5. Supply estimated date issued
6. Click add new

You’ve now added a user interaction. This is so staff can now see user interaction for unban requests along with proof.

Player Rules

No Swearing

Swearing is when a player intentionally uses swear words (the words not acronyms eg WTF is allowed if not used excessively). If a player accidentally swears and apologises no action should be taken eg;

Player123: "Oh shit this is awesome!"

Player123: "Oops, sorry about the swear"

Then no action should be taken except a verbal warning. If the player intentionally swears multiple times even after warning then action should take place eg;

Player456: "This server is fucking shit"

Player456: "What the fuck is this"

If players continue to swear constantly even after a temporary ban, then punishment should result in a permanent warning and permanent ban.
